NEW PRISONER SAID TO ADMIT HAND IN KILLING OF KABER

Man Arrested at Eden, N. Y., 15 Miles From Buffalo, in Connection With Cleveland Murder in 1919.

CASE REVIVED BY OLD WOMAN'S CONSCIENCE

Statements by Mother of Widow Have Caused Indictment of Four Women in Case.

By the Associated Press.
BUFFALO, N. Y., June 17.—Sal-vatore Cala, 31 years old, arrested at the village of Eden, 15 miles from Buffalo, shortly after noon today, admits that he had a hand in the killing of Daniel F. Kaber of Cleveland, two years ago. District Attorney Moore said in a message sent to the Ohio authorities after Cala's capture.

From a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and the New York Evening World.

CLEVELAND, June 17.—The tormented conscience of an old woman, played upon by police agents, was responsible for the opening up of the two-year-old Kaber murder mystery in this city and the unfolding of the details of a plot which in boldness of conception and the number of participants has no parallel in the criminal history of this country.

It now appears that Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber enlisted the aid of a veritable murder syndicate in her design to get rid of her husband.

Four women are under indictment for the killing of Kaber. One of these, 69-year-old Mrs. Mary Brickell, the mother of Mrs. Kaber, is mainly responsible for the indictments because her conscience was troubled by the alleged murder of her husband. She is the wife of Cala. Two of the other women are her daughter, Mrs. Kaber, and her daughter's child, Marian McArdle.
The third is Erminia Covallito, who mixed with her poison of crime a claim to witchcraft through intimacy with the spirit world. She is, too, who invests the case with an atmosphere of East Indian poison intrigue. Detectives are hunting for a mysterious drug which has been sold by Covallito. The poison search began when it was learned that the woman had sold bottles of the liquid as a cure for "bad habits."

Reports of Poison.
Mrs. Daniel Kaber was alleged to have purchased "medicines" from the Italian woman. Detectives, searching the Covallito home, found rubber-covered fingers into sticky and easily crumbled pills. A laboratory to find mixtures of arsenic, a drug which they believe was used on Kaber before he was stabbed to death.

City chemists have declared that summers' deaths have been caused if the woman's prescriptions were as freely used as evidence indicates. Recent mysterious deaths here will be investigated as a result.
Branching off from the Kaber murder case is a side road of crime leading to the Italian district of East Cleveland, where detectives are now working on evidence pointing to the deaths of several persons who had taken medicine prescribed by Mrs.
Covallito. The Kaber murder case is one of many angles. It has not yet been solved, although the Prosecuting Attorney, Edward Stanton, is in possession of a sheaf of confessions.
At this time the confessions made by Mrs. Brickell, Mrs. Covallito, Miss Ardie and a fortune teller named Mrs. Matthews point to the conclusion that Kaber was murdered by two men who hid in his home.

That murder story is worth a story in itself. But—and here is a point that is likely to make this case at any time even more sensational than has been thus far experienced involves investigation of the following every shred of evidence do not believe that Kaber was killed by a man. Briefly they reason along these lines:

There was in the crime the element of abnormality. Mrs. Kaber, according to the confessions of persons who heard her speak of her husband, detested him for reasons which she might better call for analysis of neurologists than of ordinary detective or prosecutor.
Mrs. Covallito has sworn that Mrs.
Kaber asked her to exert some spiritual influence on her husband which would make him more desirable as a husband and that Kaber was given some sort of a decoction which Mrs.
Kaber complained was ineffectual.
Kaber was aroused from sleep by persons who entered his room. He was stabbed 24 times in the lower PART OF BARRACKS TRACT

AVAILABLE FOR U. S. HOSPITAL

Col. Parker Notifies Secretary of War 180 Acres Can Be Spared From Reservation.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, June 17.—A tract of 180 acres in the southeastern corner of the Jefferson Barracks reservation would be available as the site of a Government hospital for former service men, Secretary of War Weeks has been informed by Col. John H.
Parker, commandant at the barracks.
The report was made at the request of the Secretary, who was asked by the Treasury Department's Hospital Committee engaged in picking hospital sites whether the War Department could spare any ground at Jefferson Barracks. Col. Parker's reply does not necessarily mean that the barracks will be chosen for a hospital but brings a hope nearer to realization.

St. Louis Congressmen are urging the hospital committee, which is headed by Dr. W. C. White of Pittsburg, to utilize the tract. The suggestion was first made before the committee by Representative Hawes of St. Louis, and has been approved by the Chamber of Commerce.

STATE INHERITANCE TAX ON

Other Leases Against Late Estate of Jacob Lampert, Esq.
Estimated at $26,360.
If the will of Jacob Lampert, wealthy cigar manufacturer, is carried out, the State inheritance tax will be $79,087.64. Other taxes, deductible from the estate, will be $26,360 additional, according to a compilation made by Edwin W. Lee, inheritance tax appraiser.

Lee has appraised the estate for inheritance tax at $121,837. Subtracting exemptions, the sum taxable is $24,903. The inventory of the estate of Lampert filed after his death showed personalty valued in excess of $120,000.

The chief heir under the will is Mrs. Rosa Graft of 5349 Pershing avenue, Lampert's sister. The sum of the State inheritance tax she will be required to pay is $78,387.04. Lee has estimated that her share of the estate, subject to the State inheritance tax, is $558,903.55.

Twelve old employees to whom Lampert willed $500 will be required to pay a tax of $25 each.

ber two, Mrs. Mary Davie Small, identified to her own satisfaction yesterday Charles A. Small, held in Jail here on charges of having three wives without being divorced from any of them, by the way he pronounced "sweet petunia."

"I can tell by the way he says it world can say 'sweet petunia' like that."

She said she learned wife number

LEAGUE COUNCIL MEETING TODAY

Dr. Koo Presides at Geneva Sessions; Long List of Important Work Before Body.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, June 17.—Dr. Gaston da Cunha, president of the Council of the League of Nations, has addressed identical notes to the Prime Ministers of France, Great Britain, Italy and Japan, with regard to the urgency of having the approval of the United States before decisions can be taken on mandates for the former German colonies. The contents of the note have been communicated to the United States Government.

Dr. da Cunha, after summarizing in his note the situation created by the attitude of the American Government, which has indicated its intention not to make representations at the meeting of the league's council on the mandate question, and the position of the council itself, says:

"I, therefore, venture to ask the principal allied Powers to be good enough to make every effort to arrive at a solution of the points under discussion between them and the United States, so as to enable the Council of the League of Nations to settle the whole question of mandates at the next meeting of the assembly."

TO GET REPORT ON AMENDMENTS

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and the Manchester Guardian.
(Copyright, 1921.)

GENEVA, June 16.—Dr. Wellington Koo, Chinese Ambassador at London, will preside at the meeting of the Council of the League of Nations, beginning here tomorrow (Friday). Leon Bourgeois, being unable to attend, will be replaced by Gabriel Hanotaux, formerly French Foreign Minister.

The council has a long list of matters to be dealt with. It has first to consider seven reports, one of the most important being that of the financial committee on the restoration of the economic and financial situation of Austria. The council doubtless will adopt the scheme of the committee, which can be put in operation as soon as the various Governments concerned have suspended their liens on Austria, so that Austrian assets may be released for raising foreign credits.

The Commission on Amendments to the covenant will present its report, in which it claims that the adoption of its proposals will show that the league is conscious of the necessity of avoiding rigidity and conservatism and has set out on a policy of prudent and gradual evolution.

There is speculation whether the council will adopt, without serious consideration, the amendment encouraging separate alliances between members of the league. Both in Hungary and Poland there is a not altogether unfounded suspicion that the object of Foreign Minister Ben-esch of Czechoslovakia in proposing this amendment was to secure the support of the League of Nations for the policy of the "Little Entente," now completed by the treaty between Rumania and Serbia.

That this policy of the "Little Entente" is opposed to the spirit of the League of Nations is said to be shown by the proposal made by Take Joneson of Rumania, that there be an alliance of the victors of Central and Eastern Europe for the maintenance of all treaties against all possible attacks.

The council will also consider the reports of the commission on the organization of a secretariat and an international labor office, of the committee on the opium traffic, of the provisional health committee and of the Barcelona transit committee.

The council will further have to make a decision on the report of the Aland Island Commission, which recommends the maintenance of the sovereignty of Finland over the islands, although that does not seem to be the wish of the inhabitants.
Sweden would prefer to be attached to Sweden.

Several other important political questions will come before the council. The most important question of all on the agenda is the Polish-Lithuanian dispute. The Lithuanian delegates at Brussels agreed to accept as

CARPENTIER LEARNS WHY

Tells Frenchman.

By the Associated Press.
MANHASSET, N. Y., June 17.—Memories of a boxing bout with an American doughboy in France were recalled to Georges Carpentier, and long-standing puzzle was solved when a Colonel of infantry called upon the challenger to extend his best wishes.

"Remember," said the officer,
"when your organization was released from the trenches and you were asked to come to an American camp under my command to box an exhibition."

"You found yourself pitted against a big American doughboy who could hit. He forgot it was just an exhibition and began punching your head. You cautioned him to ease up but he just kept on. Then you let him have a right on the jaw for a knockout."

"Remember, don't you?"
"Yes, I remember," answered Georges. "But why, may I ask, was he so persistent after I cautioned him?"

"Why, we gave him $100 and told him to knock you out."

The challenger, in perfect English, said:

"Well, can you beat it?"

64 INDICTMENTS AGAINST NEGROES FOR TULSA RIOTS

By the Associated Press.
TULSA, Okla., June 17.—Arrests of negroes charged in 64 indictments returned by the special grand jury with inciting race riots began today when Sheriff McCullough sent out a large force of deputies to round up those accused.

Many of those indicted, the Sheriff said, would be in custody before nightfall.

It was learned this morning that of the 64 indictments returned, four are against negroes now prisoners in the county jail, two against negroes killed in the rioting and one against a negro serving a term in the State penitentiary at McAlester.

It is known that most of the true blame returned in the first group of indictments were for negroes, but officials refuse to discuss the situation further.

ROAD CONVENTION
ADOPTS A DIRT
HIGHWAY PROGRAM

So-Called Federation of Missouri Commercial Clubs Votes Down Effort at Discussion.

PLAN FOR USING BOND ISSUE MONEY

Inter-County Seat Highway System Favored; Would Not Use Cement Until Price Comes Down.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 17.—Resolutions advocating the adoption of a dirt road program were passed today by the so-called Federation of Missouri Commercial Clubs in convention here. Opponents of the program were not permitted to speak against it and an effort to have this resolution discussed section by section was voted down.

Judge W. K. James of St. Joseph, a former member of the Legislature, and H. H. Farris of Clinton, probable nominees for Governor in several campaigns made the effort to have the resolutions discussed before adoption, but the convention voted against any discussion.

The only question on which there seemed to be a real division of opinion was a motion to raise $100 in each county and pay the expense of the organization and pay the expense of the "dirt road lobby" in Jefferson City.
I. R. Kelo, public utility lawyer of St. Louis, head of the organization, declared the motion carried. After the resolution was adopted, George W. Schwer of Clinton asked that they be read, "so we can know what we have done," but he was ignored.

The dirt road program of the federation is exactly opposed to recommendations of the Ralph committee of legislators who two months ago visited many Eastern states where successful road programs have been carried out. The resolutions would make the $50,000,000 bond issue valueless to the State, hard road advocates say.

The resolutions are in the form of a recommendation to the State Legislature, which is in special session today, to enact good roads legislation.
Program in Resolutions.
This is the federation program as set out in the resolutions:

Creation of a State highway commission of 16 members, one from each congressional district, and one-half the members of the commission to be "dirt farmers."

Use of bond issue money to drag dirt roads and designation of such roads as "hard surface roads."

Adoption of the inter-county seat highway system, connecting all county seats. This would mean a system of approximately 11,000 miles.

further.

Judge Vallian Biddison said late yesterday that all indictments thus far returned had been on the charge of rioting.

Hard Surface Roads.
The resolution seeking to define hard surface roads is to the effect that they should be so defined "that the same may not be interpreted to prevent the grading, draining, dragging and oiling of earth roads preparatory to graveling, macadamizing, paving or otherwise improving same."

The submission of a constitutional amendment so defining hard roads is recommended in case the Legislature doubts its right to define them. Recommendation for the annual expenditure in each county of the county's "equitable share" of the road funds was made, the sur-

REPRESENTATIVE RAZOVSKY NAMED BY MILLER AS MAN WHO ASKED HIM FOR FAVOR

Police Board Head Says Legislator Wanted Man With Record of 11 Arrests Restored as Qualified Bondsman.

Victor J. Miller, president of the Police Board, speaking to the City Club at luncheon today, said that State Representative Julius A.
Razovsky had tried to persuade him to accept, as a qualified bondsman, a man with a police record of 11 arrests, on serious charges.

Miller said he refused Razovsky's request, and that he believed this accounted for Razovsky's fight on him in Jefferson City. He said Razovsky sought to be a self-ordained leader of the Republican party, and that he had announced that Gov. Hyde must "get rid of that guy Miller," or his program in the Legislature would be "summed up."

Reads Letter From Razovsky.
He read a letter written to him by Razovsky, asking that a certain man be accepted as a bondsman in police court cases, and adding:

"We need one we can get results from, and who won't overcharge people."

Miller said he looked up the police record of the man named by Razovsky and found that he had been locked up 11 times, and had been arrested recently in connection with the discovery of $10,000 worth of stolen property in a garage.

He said Razovsky was only one of a group of politicians who had sought to make trouble for him, and to obstruct the Police Board's task of law enforcement.

Talks on "Politics and Police." An unusually large luncheon gathering heard Miller, who was introduced by Harlan E. Read as "an immigrant from Joplin," who had been a disappointment to the politicians. The announced theme was "Foker, Politics and Police," but Miller dismissed the subject of poker by saying that his gray hair were acquired in looking for flushes.

Miller spoke of Gov. Hyde's appearance before the City Club last summer, when he was a candidate in the primary, and said Hyde announced then that, if elected Gov-nor, he would not let petty politicians control his acts.

"When the present Police Board took hold," Miller said, "we found the Police Department being run largely for the benefit of the criminal element, through political influence. The bondsman, the fixer and the grafter were the powers in the department, and the police were forced to do their duty, lest some petit larceny politician should get their jobs. When they tried to do anything, it was tipped off to the criminals. Blood relatives of active criminals, who lived in the same house with them, were in the service of the department."

Other Visits From Politicians.
Miller told of attempts of politicians to obtain police protection for gambling hotels and gambling enterprises. He spoke of the importance of prevention of crime, and said he believed it best to "make it so hot" for those engaged in crime that no one else will be tempted to imitate them, and that the criminals will quit crime or leave the city.

"Five-sixths of the known criminals of this town have gone to more productive fields," he said. He spoke of the relation of protected vice to crime, and said that not only politicians, but lawyers and bankers, had tried to obtain protection from the police for resorts of vice.

"They say you can't eliminate vice," he said. "I have more respected to run, and their inexpensive clothing, can we wonder if poorly paid girls go wrong? We are making it so hot for this class that they are leaving the city, and the criminal class of men is going with them."

Results of Police Activity.
"Highway robberies have decreased 80 per cent in three months. There has been only one payroll robbery in the last five weeks. Not one complaint of pocket-picking was made on Memorial day. Automobile thefts have gone down from 20 or 25 a day to two or three, and some days none. We are getting results.
But it is hard to please everyone, especially the criminal element, and the leeches that live from the protection of crime. I have more respected to run, and their in-

NEWSPAPER OFFICE ATTACKED BY JEWS IN ALGERIAN CITY

Troops on Duty in Streets of Constantine to Prevent Conflicts; No Deaths in Disturbances.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch. (Copyright, 1934.)
PARIS, June 17.—The attacks by the Jews of Constantine, an important town of Algeria, on the offices of the Tribune, a newspaper of the town, have taken on a disquieting character. Troops have been called out and they remain on duty in the streets to prevent conflicts between the Jews and their opponents.

Mayor Mariade of Constantine, who is in Paris attending to his duties as a parliamentary deputy, says the Jews in great numbers stormed the offices of the Tribune, broke the printing presses and prevented publication.

Mayor Mariade complains that the Tribune has waged for five months a bitter campaign against Jews in general. Before he left Constantine, the Mayor says, he was approached by a deputation of influential Jews, who complained bitterly. Pointing out that the Jews had performed all their duties during the war, just as had the Christians of the town, they were indignant over the campaign. He persuaded them to remain calm, but the Tribune's denunciation increased in bitterness, with the consequent attack on its offices. No one has been killed or wounded in the rioting. The Mayor has received a message from the counselors of Constantine in which they threatened to resign in a body.

FOUR MEN MUST STAND TRIAL ON COURT "LEAK" CHARGES

Former Government Employees Among Those Accused of Conspiracy to "Tip" Stock Dealers.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 17.—Ashton R. Embrey, James Harwood Graves, Barnett F. Moses and E. Millard Mayor must go to trial on the charge of conspiracy to defraud the Government in connection with "leaks" in decisions of the United States Supreme Court, Justice Siddons, in the District of Columbia Supreme Court, overruled today a demurrer filed by the defendants that the indictments as drawn did not charge a crime against the United States Government.

The case attracted widespread attention when charges were made more than a year ago that "leaks" had developed in certain offices of the staff of the Supreme Court of the United States, and that the advance information was used to influence the stock market. An investigation led to the arrest of Embrey, who was a clerk in the office of Justice McKenna, and later Graves, an attorney in the Department of Justice, was indicted.

This was followed by the arrest of Moses, a Washington lawyer, and Mayor, who was in business in Cincinnati for several years.

FIRST REGIMENT TO PARADE

The completed First Regiment, Missouri National Guard, will give a dress parade, preceded by guard mount by G Company and escort to the colors by H Company at the Armory, Grand and Laclede avenues, tonight, beginning at 8:30 o'clock. The dress parade will be followed by a dance, music for which will be furnished by the First Regiment Band, which a Federal Inspector declared to be the best regimental band he had seen in 22 years' service.

This will be the last function given by the regiment until fall. Col. C. S. Thornton has issued a general invitation to everybody to attend and see what the regiment is doing and join in the dance.

WANTS CITY WORK ON HARLEM SEWER ENDED

Manufacturing Group Favors Putting Project in Hands of Private Contractors.

A group of manufacturers in the northwest industrial district yesterday, at a meeting in the office of the Wrought Iron Range Co., decided to ask the Mayor formally to order city construction of the Harlem Creek sewer suspended and to place the work in the hands of a private contractor, on the ground that the city work has been inefficient and costly.

R. L. Niedringhaus, president of the Niedringhaus Metalware Co., declared that nearly $200,000 of the $250,000 available for construction of the sewer has been expended, while the project was only 30 per cent finished. The sewer is designed to serve the northwest industrial district.

Early this month President Kinsey of the Board of Public Service was asked by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment to state the status of the Harlem Creek sewer job. He replied that the work could not be finished by the city without an additional appropriation of a minimum of $24,000. He declared that private contractors might take over the work and finish it within the appropriation because they likely could employ labor cheaper than the city, which, under the charter, is compelled to pay the prevailing wages, interpreted to be the union scale. Kinsey requested and was granted permission to undertake the work on his statement that he could do it within the appropriation.

At yesterday's meeting the following were appointed to bring the matter to the attention of the Mayor: Niedringhaus, B. P. Culver, president of the Wrought Iron Range Co.; J. F. O. Reiter, Henry Leachon of the Leachon Wire Rope Co.; James E. Fogg of the Mars Realty Co. and former Circuit Judge William T. Jones.

CINCINNATI ADOPTS CIPHERS FOR CLEARINGS

Follows St. Louis in Giving Out Daily Statement in Round Numbers to Foil Gamblers.

CINCINNATI, O., June 17.—The Cincinnati clearing house has followed the lead of the St. Louis clearing house in substituting ciphers for the terminal figures of the daily bank clearings in what appears to be a nation-wide movement to destroy the existence of lotteries based on the daily clearings as published.

The St. Louis clearing house announced last Monday that it would publish the daily clearings with five ciphers for the terminal figures to foil the gamblers. The New York clearing house yesterday adopted the plan of using ciphers for the last three figures. Other cities have been asked to take the same action and it has been said that if half a dozen of the principal cities followed this practice the lottery would be wiped out.

JUDGING from the way they're starting out, we will sell at least three out of every five "featherweights" that are bought this season.

That proves one thing conclusively: Bond's Clothes are right—in style, in tailoring and in price. If this were not true, men would soon find it out.

Nothing like being first, and giving a little more than the other fellow. That is why, probably, that Bond's organization has grown in such a short time, from one small factory and a single outlet store, to its present magnitude. Regular, long, stouts, stub, 33 to 50.

City Swimming Pools Crowded

Hot weather brings men, women and children en masse to the Municipal Swimming Pools, seeking a respite from the sun's relentless rays.

A cool spot in the downtown shopping district has been arranged on the Garden Floor of the Prufrock-Litton Furniture Company, Fourth and St. Charles streets.

Summer furniture of every material, design and finish is attractively displayed on that floor, and visitors to their store are invited to enjoy a cooling drink of iced tea.

The quick, efficient and inexpensive way to accomplish many things in buying, selling, renting, exchanging is through Post-Dispatch WANTS.

TWO $10,000 ST. LOUIS U. GIFTS

At a general meeting of the St. Louis University Centennial Endowment Fund Committee held Tuesday night, announcement was made of two additional donations of $10,000, from "sources unknown."

It also was announced that the recent graduating classes of the Colleges of Medicine and Dentistry, a total of 183 men, had pledged themselves to give to the fund $10 a year for an indefinite number of years. This payment is considered the annual interest on a gift of $200, and any of the signers may erase his entire obligation at any time upon the payment of this full sum.

Not Absent or Tardy in 9 Years.
Miss Anna Louise Chaffer, a graduate of the Cathedral High School at Alton, did not miss school for a period of nine years, and neither was she tardy in that time. In recognition of her record her classmates presented a gold medal to her. Miss Chaffer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Chaffer of Alton.

Illinois Leaves Note Giving Ill Health as Cause of Act.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CHRISTOPHER, Ill., June 17.—Hugh McEwen, a miner, 53 years old, ended his life today by tying his hands and feet together and rolling into Andy's Creek, near here. He left a note addressed to his brother, James, and his wife, saying ill health caused the act. He had been a sufferer from rheumatism.

Crucible Steel Dividend Reduced.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, June 17.—The board of directors of the Crucible Steel Co. of America yesterday declared a 1 per cent quarterly dividend on common stock, instead of the usual 2 per cent dividend. This reduction was made, a statement said, because of "general conditions and depression in the steel business." A readjustment of wages and salaries also had been made necessary, it added.

Bounty Paid on Four Wolf Scalps.

The Board of Supervisors at Jerseyville, Ill., yesterday paid the bounty on four wolf scalps at $15 each. The scalps were sent in by Fred Engle of the Otter Creek neighborhood, who trailed a wolf to his den on the Cunningham ranch, and dug out the four young wolves. Last summer about a dozen wolves were killed in Jersey County near Otter Creek, southwest of town, and in Ruyle Township east of town.

MAN QUOTED AS SAYING SHE PLANNED TO KILL MAN AND SON Elizabeth Lewen, on Trial in Detroit for Boy's Death.
DETROIT, June 17.—Testimony of Mrs. Elizabeth Lewen, charged with the murder of Max Ernest, 6 years old, had planned violence against members of the Ernest family, and a statement that the defendant was armed when arrested, several days after the boy's body was found, was given at her trial in Remond's Court yesterday. Witnesses also identified the defendant as a woman seen in the neighborhood of the Ernest home on May 11, the day the child disappeared.

A. I. Stamborg testified he met Mrs. Lewen in a restaurant on May 9. Their conversation turned to her business dealings with Frank W.
Ernest, the boy's father, who, she declared, according to Stamborg, had "locked her out of her home."
"It's an awful thing to say," Stamborg quoted Mrs. Lewen as saying to him, "but I went to Mr. Ernest's home the other night with the intention of killing his wife and little boy.
When I got there my courage failed me."

COSTS HIGHER BY NEW FEE SYSTEM IN COUNTY
Hereafter St. Louis Automobile Owners Arrested Will Have to Pay $9.10 or More.

A new fee system in connection with arrests in automobile cases, which costs the automobile owner more than the old plan, and which appears to be legal, has been worked out by St. Louis County Deputy Sheriffs and Justices of the Peace.

Hereafter the costs for St. Louis automobile owners arrested in the county will come to $9.10 or more.
They were formerly $7.60 or $7.80.

Prosecuting Attorney Mueller, who recently announced that extortion of illegal fees in these cases must stop, was notified today of the new scale of fees, and said it appeared to be legal, but that it was based on the idea of fee-grabbing. He said he hoped unnecessary arrests would cease, under his order against dismissal of cases on payment of costs.

Salaried Police Force Urged.
Mueller is advocating Judge Wurdeman's plan for a salaried county police force, and is urging that an automobile read squad should be maintained.

The new procedure, as explained in a letter received by Mueller from Sheriff William, will be as follows: A Deputy Sheriff, on stopping a driver accused of speeding, will take the driver's name and car number, and let him proceed. He will then apply to the County Court to certify a warrant, and will go to the man's office or home and serve the warrant on the man, who can give a $200 common law bond. The case will then be docketed in a justice court.

The fees charged will be:
Deputy Sheriff, serving warrant, $1; mileage (if into city and back), $2; bond fee, .50 cents; witness fee, 50 cents; mileage to court, 50 cents; total for Deputy Sheriff, $4.50.

Constable, for issuing and serving subpoena, $1.50.
Clerk County Court, for certifying warrant, 50 cents.

Justice of the Peace, subpoena, 25 cents; warrant, 35 cents; docket and index, $1.10; affidavit, 35 cents; judgment, 50 cents; continuance, 35 cents; swearing witnesses, 10 cents; total for Justices, $2.80.

Total for Deputy Sheriff, Constable, Justice and County Court Clerk, $9.10.

The mileage costs would be less in a case where the defendant lived in the county.
Costs in Addition to Fines.
The costs named are in addition to any fine which may be imposed.
As the future policy is to be against the settlement of cases on payment of costs, there will be a fine of at least $1 in all speeding cases, and of not less than $25 in cases relating to lights.

Justice William Campbell of Webster Groves, whose system of charging fees caused objection from the Prosecuting Attorney recently, and who had to make refunds of overcharges to two automobile owners, sent his resignation to the County Court today. It was accepted without discussion.
He wrote a letter, saying his fee schedule had been based on information given him by Deputy Sheriffs and the Prosecuting Attorney's office, and added:

"It is plain that I have been misled by the advice of the county officials whose duty it was to know the law. I do not intend to permit myself to remain in an official position where I am liable to be subjected to public criticism as the result of following the advice of public officials on whose word I find I cannot rely."

Prosecuting Attorney Mueller has said that he told Campbell that the fees were to be charged when the service represented by the various items was performed, and not otherwise. The service was not performed, in some cases, he said.

ALLAN'S Epsom Salt is pure. It is kept pure and strong in its sanitary sealed package.
You pay only 10 cents for Allan's—and you get these added safeguards.
Allan's is the kind of Epsom Salt your physician prescribes—because it is strictly fresh.
Some people like to squeeze half a lemon into the dose, with sugar added. That is recommended because the fresh fruit acid helps Allan's to act quickly and takes away that "bitterness." Be sure to say "Allan's"—and it means a lot for Allan's is pure.

AT CHURCH TOMORROW

Miss Katharine Adams Semple Will Become Bride Tomorrow in Woodstock, Vt.

TWO of the notable weddings of the week will take place tomorrow.

Miss Susan May Woods, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Parker H. Woods of 6348 Washington boulevard, will become the bride of Randolph Smith Lyon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Montague Lyon of 5885 Gates avenue, at 1 o'clock in the evening at the Grace M. E. Church, the Rev. Dr. Herbert B. Rhodes officiating. A reception at the home of the bride's parents will follow the ceremony.

Miss Helen Martha Woods, sister of the bride, will be maid of honor and the bridesmaids will be Misses Mildred Lyon, the bridegroom's sister; Frances Keasey of Grand Rapids, Mich.; Louise Harris of Indianapolis, Carolyn Matthews and Amelia Menzenwerth. Montague Lyon Jr. will serve his brother as best man and the groomsmen will include Reynolds Medart, Max Muench and Robert and Leonard Woods, brothers of the bride. Francis Barnidge and Jesse Haynes will act as ushers.

The bride's gown will be of white satin. Net embroidered with a bow motif design in seed pearls will form a drape over the clinging skirt, which is quite long. The bodice will be of point applique lace partly veiled with the embroidered net. A cord of seed pearls will girdle the waist and fall the entire length of the skirt. The court train will be lined with silver and weighted at the end with orange blossoms in the same design as the pearls. The tulle veil will fall from a coronet of lace.

EDITOR AND PUBLISHER ASSOCIATED 40 YEARS

H. W. Clendenin, 60 Years a Newspaper Man, Now 84, Still Edits Rees' Illinois State Register.

By the Associated Press. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 17.—Forty years as editor of the Illinois State Register of this city, and more than 60 years as a newspaper man, will be rounded out Sunday, June 19, by Henry W. Clendenin, 84, whose career as a Democratic leader in Illinois has been shared both in its storms and tranquility by the publisher of the paper, former State Senator Thomas Rees.

Tributes to these two men whose newspaper lives have been lived together for 58 years are being received from State and national leaders of both great political parties as the Register's fortieth anniversary approaches.

Clendenin, notwithstanding his age, continues in charge of the editorial policy of the paper. His interest is every bit as active as during the 30 years the State Register as a morning paper held a national reputation of holding its editorial column open later at night than any other paper. His editorial pen was always ready until midnight. Thus it occurred, it is said, that the Register carried an editorial on Bismarck's death in 1898 the very morning after it was announced.

This habit of Clendenin got him into several difficulties other editors escaped. His close friend and companion through all his troubles, Rees, recalling one experience, declared he sometimes thought Clendenin "didn't have sense enough to be scared."

One night after closing the column Clendenin left the office in a hurry. When two holdup men stopped him, and with drawn revolvers said, "Hands up," he brushed them aside with "Don't bother me—I'll miss the last car."

Before becoming editor of the State Register, Clendenin was editor of the Keokuk (Ia.) Constitution. He acquired that paper, with Rees, after serving as a Union soldier in the Civil War. His rise from the position of "printer's devil" on the Burlington Hawkeye to an editorship was gradual. In 1858 he was foreman of the composing room and telegraph editor of the Peoria Transcript, and later held similar positions on the Burlington Daily Gazette and Argus.

The State Register made its first appearance here with Clendenin as editor and Rees as publisher on June 19, 1891.

A few years later, when the Associated Press took over the Northwestern Press Association, of which Clendenin was secretary, the Register became an Associated Press paper and Clendenin became its Springfield correspondent, which he held until the Illinois bureau was established here. The Northwestern Press included Illinois, Iowa, Eastern Nebraska and parts of Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Leader in many good movements of his time, Clendenin was pioneer of the "Go to Church Sunday" movement. Refining his ideas, the Register each Sunday since its foundation has carried a sermon on the editorial page, together with this permanent but brief editorial—"This is Sunday. Go to church."

Clendenin has held no political jobs save that for one term he was postmaster of Springfield. Thomas Rees, however, was State Senator from 1902 to 1905. In that term he introduced the bill forming the Illinois Good Roads Commission, whose activities have led to the greatest improvement in road building that State has seen. He was also President Wilson's representative to visit the Mediterranean countries of Europe in the interest of the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

Troust of Fashion Models Tonight. The final tryout and selection of the models who will display garments, footwear and millinery in the St. Louis Style Show, to be given at the Municipal Theater, Aug. 2, 3, 9, 10, 11, 16 and 17, will be held this evening at Community Center Hall.

EAST ST. LOUIS CARMEN REJECT WAGE ARBITRATION PROPOSAL

Refuse to Agree to Second Board While Present One Is Enjoined by Federal Court.

Members of Local No. 125 of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees, most of whom are employed on the East St. Louis Railway as motormen and conductors, have refused to agree to the selection of a second board of arbitration to consider their demands for an increase in wages retroactive to May 1.

President Sawyer of the street car company directed a letter to William O'Leary, president of the local, suggesting that, inasmuch as the present board of arbitration is enjoined from deciding the wage award question, by reason of injunction proceedings in the Federal Court, a second board be selected to proceed with the work and effect a settlement.

O'Leary said that the men, by their vote, rejected the suggestion, and said they would take no further steps toward effecting a settlement until the status of the present board was determined. A long legal battle is expected, during which time the men will receive the wage which was effective prior to May 1, which was 70 cents an hour. The men are asking for an increase to 90 cents, but the company holds that 70 cents is too much, and asks for a reduction, without mentioning any figure.

Cotton Restriction Affects Spain.

By the Associated Press.

MADRID, June 17.—The Minister of Labor, replying in the Senate yesterday to a question of Senator Sedo relative to restrictions by the United States and Great Britain against the exportation of cotton, said that 200,000 Spanish workers were unemployed as a result. The Minister said he intended to raise the question at the next meeting of the Cabinet.

In Shoes for Men and Women at Prices Lower By At Least $2.00 Per Pair Than Any Other Store Anywhere!

Women's Tan Calf One-Strap Walking Oxford (as illustrated). Perforated bal strap. Military walking heels with Wingfoot rubber heels attached. $4

Men's Russia Mahogany Oxfords (as illustrated); with perforated bal strap and tip. Goodyear welt and rubber heels attached. $5

If you pay more than Newark prices these days for shoes, you are paying an unnecessarily high rate for satisfaction. You wouldn't do it if you realized that once more you can get the old-time quality at old-time prices. And you can—positively. If you will examine these handsome NEWARK shoes at $4 and $5, you will be absolutely convinced of that fact.

They are so far better, finer, more beautifully modeled and smarter than you thought shoes could be made to sell for $4 and $5 that you will always in the future see what NEWARK values are like before you buy anywhere.

The advantage we have over the average retailer is that we sell more than 4 million pairs yearly through our 400 stores, therefore we can not only produce them for less, but also sell them on a much closer margin of profit. At least let us show you these super values tomorrow before you buy anywhere.

OPERA GOER HELD UP WITH A TOY PISTOL

Men Who Get $1.61 From Joseph Sear in Forest Park Caught by Policeman.

As Joseph Sear of 4114 Gravois avenue was leaving Forest Park last night after attending the Municipal Opera he was held up near the Lacleda Pavilion by two young men, one of whom pointed at him what appeared to be an automatic revolver and commanded him to hold up his hands. Sear, who was directed and $1.61 was taken from him.

The two men then fled from the scene of the robbery and at the Wabash bridge they ran into Patrolman George Roosman of the North Market Street Station, who had been on special duty at the opera. He stopped them, and one of the young men threw away an article which the patrolman picked up and found to be an automatic pea shooter. They were taken back to Sear, who in the meantime made an outcry that he had been robbed, and who identified them as the robbers.

They said they were Joseph Donovan, 18 years old, of 811A South Grand avenue, and Webster O'Connor, 28, 4366 Forest Park boulevard.
In Donovan's pockets were a $1 bill, two quarters and 11 pennies, the amount Sear said was taken from him. Donovan refused to make a statement. O'Connor, however, told the police he was not aware that Donovan contemplated a holdup and that it was a surprise to him when Donovan pulled out the pea-shooter and held up Sear with the make-believe revolver. Both men were locked up.

Two Men Held Up by Negroes and Woman's Handbag Is Taken.

Carl Reiffer, 5615 Waterman avenue, reported that he was robbed of $40 in cash, a $150 diamond ring and four keys by two negroes in front of 709 North Ewing avenue last night at 10:30.

Two negroes held up Lloyd Asquith of Hillsboro, Mo., as he was walking on Twelfth street near Washington avenue, after midnight, and robbed him of $22, according to a report he made to the police.

James Beaver, 1422 Wash. street, reported that he was robbed of $1.02 by three men who held him up at Sixth and Biddle streets at 10 p. m.
A negro whom Mrs. Fleta Arthur of Little Rock, Ark., left in charge of her handbag while she purchased a Pullman ticket at Union Station last night disappeared with the bag, Mrs. Arthur reported. She valued the contents at $75.

Thirty-five dollars was stolen from the cash register at the gasoline station at Twentieth and Pine streets at 6:15 p. m. while the manager, Joseph Schilling, was waiting on a customer.

Michael Talanda, proprietor of a soft-drink establishment at 209 Victor street, reported that a man entered his place last night and demanded $100, posing as a Government agent. He accused Talanda of selling liquor. Talanda denied this and refused to give the man $100.
Then the latter said he was willing to take $50 and finally came down to $25, but Talanda said he would not give a cent. When a customer entered the man went away.

ARMED KANSAS MAIL MESSENGER IS ROBBED

Postal Employee at Baxter Springs Taken Out of Town and Four Sacks Stolen.

By the Associated Press.
BAXTER SPRINGS, Kan., June 17.—Four bandits held up Guy Shields, 24 years old, armed mail messenger, here at 4 o'clock this morning, took him half a mile west of town, put him out of his motor car and escaped with five sacks of mail.

The last Shields saw of the robbers they were speeding west in a motor car taken from him and a touring car used in the robbery. Banks announced early today that so far as could be determined none of their money was in the pouches. Only a small quantity of registered mail is believed to have been stolen. Shields received the five sacks of mail from St. Louis and San Francisco train No. 111, the Oklahoma Meteor, which arrived in Baxter Springs at 3:40 o'clock, and was on his way to the postoffice, when the bandits drove up from behind and commanded him to stop. The mail was then transferred from the messenger's car and he was compelled to get into the bandits' machine. After being put out, Shields walked back to town and reported the robbery.

Chief of Police C. H. Upon received a report at 9 o'clock that some of the mail had been dumped into Spring River. A posse is scouring the country west of here.

The graduation address to the students was delivered by the Rev. James J. Daly, S. J., editor of the Queen's Work.

the "growing menace of Japanese

Charles P. Comer, previously ing His Machine.

Suit for $20,000 punitive da-noon by Charles P. Comer, anney, against Victor J. Miller, after of the Police Board, and of Police O'Brien on account chaining of his automobile at and Chestnut streets by a poli-in one spot longer than a city dance permits.

When Comer protested to O'Brien and threatened to machine was unchained. Poli-were kept watching it in re-12 hours, waiting for Comer to it, when he would have been ed for violating the automobiliday.

When Comer complained to O'Brien and the company whe bond he told them he would them responsible for the machine. He said today that he did not know, until he read newspaper at 8 o'clock yesterday that the chain had been re-

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles, that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be saddled with merely printing news, always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

Parochial Schools.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Permit me to say that I entirely agree with the Lutheran gentleman who resented the remark made by Bishop Quayle of the Methodist church, characterizing parochial schools as un-American.

Here are a few of the things which are overlooked by some loyal Americans:

1. The family was instituted before the state. Since a child belongs to his parents and not to the state, they have the right to choose the school at which their child shall be educated.

2. Even if it were constitutional to impart religious instruction in our public schools, it would be neither practical nor desirable to do so.

3. The fact that some children are sent to parochial schools does not mean hostility to the public schools. It means that the parent is fulfilling his duty to his child and his country as he sees fit.

4. In these days of shortage of funds and teachers, where would we get the $9,000 teachers and the cash to care for the 250,000 pupils who are enrolled in the Catholic parish schools of our country?

5. Patrons of parochial schools pay their taxes dollar for dollar with the nonpatrons. If they wish to make sacrifices to support their parish schools and at the same time have absolutely no apology to make for the character of instruction received therein, who is to say them nay?

It is up to Mr. Quayle to prove this charge of un-Americanism.

In the meantime, let us trust to the great mass of intelligent, fair-minded, sane and deep-thinking men and women of America to render a just verdict in this matter.

Would suggest that the city either repair Goodfellow, from Natural Bridge north or else close the street to traffic.

A CITIZEN.

Why Hostile?

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

If disarmament is desirable, and it is not only that, it is essential, then why should we hesitate or try to find excuses for not, at least, trying to have it accomplished. We did heroic things when we had to in order to put an end to the useless slaughter of men and destruction of property, and now that the opportunity, or duty, is ours to shape things so that there will be no recurrence of that unpleasant tragedy, why hesitate and hem and haw and fiddle around in the characteristic political fashion and not even try. If England and the United States and France say that disarmament shall be done who doubts what Japan will get the credit and get the ships or navy and would go bankrupt in a year. If these powerful nations should close their markets against her. But the poor tax-ridden people of Japan are just as anxious for cessation of this tremendous and useless war as we are. If we seriously try we can do this most desirable thing and in the next 25 years, prevent perhaps $15,000,000,000 to $25,000,000, 100 of the people's hard-earned money from being wasted.

A Newberry Head.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

In Tuesday morning's issue of your esteemed contemporary, that "independent, Republican" Journal, the Globe-Democrat, appeared a story which stated in the first paragraph that for the first time, and which Mr. Henry Ford's counsel has been endeavoring to show ever since the hearings before the Senate subcommittee started, the committee yesterday succeeded in proving to the satisfaction of everybody that Truman H.
Newberry was cognizant of the money being expended in his behalf in the Michigan primary, contrary to his sworn statement filed with the Senate.

What does the Globe-Democrat do to this story?

They put a head on it: "Newberry Store Room Forced and Records of Campaign Stolen."

Senator Spencer, being chairman of this investigating committee, has all along tried his best to prevent the Ford attorneys from turning up any such damning evidence, and therein lay the "story," if there was any story in it at all. And the chairman of any committee can exercise a lot of influence in such an investigation. Spencer has claimed all along that such evidence was irrelevant. Irrelevant! Indeed!

Such distortion of news in the head of a story may please and even fool some of the people, but it won't fool much less please, the majority of them—Republicans or Democrats.

A REAL INDEPENDENT.

DEMOCRACY OR SOCIALISM.

Senator Reed's speech before the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce on the "Federal Licensing of Business" was a closely reasoned discussion of the sinister and tenuous character of industrial legislation which is now finding official favor in Washington and enjoying a certain type of intellectual sanction throughout the country. The danger and folly were both clearly shown.

The danger is more than economic and industrial, though considered from that viewpoint only it is ominous. For illustration, Mr. Reed submitted the packers' bill which has already passed the House and is now before the Senate. This bill places the direction of the entire meat industry of the country in the hands of a Commissioner and the Secretary of Agriculture. How will those men undertake to discharge the responsibility thus imposed on them? Mr. Reed asked. However extraordinary their capacity, it is obviously impossible for them personally to do more than vaguely supervise the tremendous business empire they have been appointed to rule. The enforcement of the law, the actual carrying out of the regulations, will necessarily be entrusted to the army of new employees which the Department of Agriculture must needs enroll. The caliber of those employees, as Mr. Reed said, is well known. They are job hunters, indifferently successful at best in private life, more often near failures. Yet to such will be given a power of espionage and dictation over the meat business, reinforced by the absolute authority of law, for which they are tragically unfitted. The consequences, in Mr. Reed's judgment, will be disastrous.

It must or ought to be understood, too, that the packers' bill is but the opening wedge. Meat is a necessity, but no more so than scores of other commodities. Will the Government part the industrial goats upon the left hand and the sheep upon the right?
The credulity that entertains such pleasing fancy is due for a rude awakening. Government control of one private business preaches Government control of all enterprise. The ultimate picture of Washington is a bewildering pageant of bureaucracy justifying Mr. Reed's legend—an "oligarchy of Socialism."

If American business and its methods of functioning were the only institution threatened, it were an occasion for alarm. None of us can sit down complacently to listen to the swan song of individual American initiative. But that is the lesser peril, Mr. Reed insists.
The very structure of our Government is being undermined. Political independence and industrial servitude cannot abide side by side. The one will go down with the other. What is really happening, then, is a revolution, as Senator Reed sees it from his close vantage point. The wordy missiles from soap boxes, that have agitated so many of us, are mere puff balls.
The anarchist, with his bomb, is an enemy immediately recognized and swiftly overcome. But the adversary unconsciously plotting the overthrow of our Government is an urbane and polished person, distinguished among his fellows, professing, sincerely, perhaps, an ardent love for humanity, and wearing the sanctimonious boutonniere of "Social Justice" on his coat lapel. His lethal weapon is the invisible gas of legislation. And his unwitting confederate is the business man that flouts the law.

We are in a transition stage, Mr. Reed believes, a stage loaded with peril. What are we going to do?
A truly sound answer requires us to consider how we have come to this pass. It did not begin with the war; that only accelerated a tendency which had already been established. The childish practice of turning to Washington whenever we stubbed a toe is of earlier origin. In the philosophy of some of our notables, which many have confidently accepted, the Government at Washington is a magician that can pull sugar plums from an empty sack whenever wanted. "Bread and the circus" shouted the Romans, but we have gone further. Morals and bread and the circus is our demand of the Government. We have abdicated moral responsibility by constitutional amendment. Is not the surrender of our economic liberty a logical sequence?

Mr. Reed has a solution. His idea is that the law which demands the respect of citizens should itself respect the rights of citizens. The law should say what may and what may not in justice be done. It should be enforced sternly. It should, unmistakably, be no respecter of persons. In other words, Mr. Reed holds that we must get back to the fundamentals upon which this Government was founded. The man who will not obey the law should be punished to the full extent of the law, while the man who obeys the law should be protected in his efforts and secured in the fruit of his energy and genius.

It is a simple recipe, but it is the essence of democracy. It is only another way of saying that the "least governed people is the best governed." Socialism declares that. Socialism wants government omnipotent, omniscient and omnipresent—the more government the better. That apparently is what we are in process of getting.

The Missouri House has reaffirmed its fealty to the home, at least so far as it concerns the retention of legislative jobs in the family.

It is no reproach to Thomas Mott Osborne to say that many would like to see him in the Missouri Penitentiary.

The newspapers are already speaking of two of ex-Banker Stillman's lady friends as Clara and Helen, and before the party is over they'll probably be calling Mrs. Leeds Florence.

TIME TO DELIVER.

It was seen early in the campaign of last year, by those who fully appreciated the character of the anti-Wilson vendetta, that the position of the Republican party and its candidate for President was impossible; that the President could not be both for a modified League and against it; that he could not satisfy both the irreconcilable anti-leaguers and the Republican pro-leaguers represented by his present leading Cabinet members, Mr. Hughes and Mr. Hoover; that the proposal of an "association of nations" to take the place and perform the functions of the going League, entailing, of course, the abandonment of that organization by its 40-odd members all over the world, was a piece of campaign expediency.

Therefore, it is not a surprise to many of us that at the end of more than three months of the Harding administration we are no nearer to an interpretation of the oracular campaign utterances of the successful candidate than we were on the night of election, that not a single sign has come from the White House or the State Department as to any intended program, and that Hamilton Holt, one of the Republicans who could not be binned by the Lodge-Harvey program, has led the procession to the White House with a demand to deliver or explain.

If this were all that Mr. Holt had to say he would only be repeating what thousands of newspapers and interested citizens have already said. But he introduces a new and powerful factor into the situation.
He suggests that with the passing newness of administrations and the realization of disappointment by the public, there may be in store for the lagging bond-men of office such a rebuke at the polls in the next biennial and following quadrennial elections as may justly follow the failure to make good assurances upon which the choice of a nation turned.

The promise of an undertaking as useless and redundant as it was gigantic—to overthrow the League of (more than 40) Nations and substitute in its place an "association" essentially different from the reserved Wilson League only in name—apparently did not awe Mr. Harding, the candidate, and, since he has become President, has not visibly moved him. What is to be his attitude now, with the war-ridden world waiting in expectancy and the legions of retaliation and an undecided electorate already gathering on the horizon?

FOILING THE GAMBLERS.

The plan of the St. Louis Clearing House for foiling the wicked who have been gambling in those reports by publishing the day's total in round numbers instead of the exact figures has been adopted by New York and will probably be put into effect in other large cities. In this way, it is believed, the extensive lottery playing which has been built up about our commercial activities will be extinguished and the gamblers will be reduced to penitence and virtue.
We cannot be certain, though, that this wholesome hope will be realized. The ingenuity of the ungodly, as we know too well, is prodigious. That they will devise another scheme for perverting the clearances into gambling media must be taken into account.
The drunkard's attachment to his cup, they say, is a mild affection compared with the gambler's maniacal passion for abruptly increasing his holdings. And when we reflect upon the skill and pertinacity displayed by the tippler in procuring the unprocurable, does it not seem likely that the clearance speculators will be even more difficult to reform?

For the present, perhaps, we may be content to test the plan in operation. But if it fails, we must not shrink from applying the severest remedy necessary.
That there will be opposition to it when first proposed, that it will be condemned as impossible and its proponents derided and demeaned, may be taken for granted; nevertheless, organization, determination and propaganda can ultimately encompass the prohibition of clearing houses even as the taverns.

THE SIMS RETREAT.

It is a favorite device of inexperienced politicians who have said something that has come back to them with the percussiveness of brickbats to seek a sort of petticoat asylum behind the charge of misquotation of their remarks in the press.

But such flying to cover was not to be expected of a man of the type of the redoubtable Sims, who misses no opportunity to express his contempt for politicians. Therefore, his reply to Secretary Denby that his remarks before the English-Speaking Union in London were garbled and "inferentially" misrepresented was received by the American press with surprise.

When the report to Denby reached London, however, things began to happen, and the ardent friendships which the Admiral had won as the reward of one evening's tongue wagging began to cool and drop away. For, not only were the ponderous, deliberate journals of London, which were in substantial agreement on the report of the speech, offended, but the British public, which had held high jubilee over the truculence of the Admiral's words, found themselves without the cause for devotion which had held them enrapt for two or three sweet, exultant days.

The Admiral might have known that the press, which has had an historic experience with hedgers and back-trackers, would be sufficiently jealous of its stock in trade—the transmission of fact—to challenge an attack upon its integrity. Because he apparently did not realize this he has lost admirers of all factions on this side of the Atlantic. The world is united in its admiration for a fighter and its contempt for a trimmer.

HE'S FEELING BETTER AGAIN.

HERE is a delicious excerpt from one of the free verse poets, Marx G. Sabel of Jacksonville, Fla.:
"Your eyes' chatyancy
In the deep dark night of my heart's heart Has faded.
And the phosphorescent glimmers of your body In the center of my mind Have faded."

"Phosphorescent glimmers" isn't so bad, when you remember the deep infatuation from which Marx has just emerged. He seems to have been thoroughly fascinated by his "little lady" love, and in such a condition the imagination goes wild and ordinary language can't fill the bill.
Chatyancy! Never heard of it. Why do these young poets strive after unusual and recondite words and expressions? I asked several of my intellectual and literary friends and they didn't know the word. So I consulted an ordinary dictionary, expecting not to find it, but there it was, all right: "Having a changeable, undulating luster or color, like that of a cat's eye in the dark." Plain enough, now. We all have enough French to know that chat is cat, and the rest is easy. Cat-eyedness, Mr. Sabel might have written: "The undulating luster of your feline eyes"—but chatyancy says the same thing, all in one word.

Let all of us impressionable masculines pray with poor Marx: From all phosphorescent bodied and chatyancy-eyed girls, good Lord, deliver us!

We have had enough commencement oratory by this time to believe that absolutely nobody is going to endorse what Col. Harvey said about our reason for joining in the war. That leaves the Colonel in rather a solitary point of view.
One of his chief grievances against Mr. Wilson was that the former President could not think as the mass of people think; yet we find the Colonel himself thinking what apparently nobody else thinks. It is a very interesting phenomenon, and we wish we could explain it. We can understand that in his eagerness to find some other reason for our participation in the war than the one Mr. Wilson had so many times claimed for us the Colonel acquired an impetus which readily carried him beyond his original objective; but how in thunder he failed to stop himself before he got out on that end of a limb which he occupies now is beyond us. We thought maybe one orator out of all those who arise at commencement time to juggle the destiny of the republic upon the tips of their tongues might agree with the Colonel that we were afraid not to fight; but we gave it up when Senator Pat Harrison, one of our best prospects, said at Boston on yesterday that it is a lie.

F. L. RESOLUTION WOULD EXCLUDE ALL JAPANESE

Drastic Measure Introduced at Convention by San Francisco Man Calls for Action by Congress.

ENDORSED BY LEAGUES OPPOSED TO ASIATICS

Plan to Include Men and Women and Skilled and Unskilled Labor Under Ban.

By the Associated Press. DENVER, Colo., June 17.—Demand that Congress take action to protect the nation's interest against the "growing menace of Japanese immigration and colonization" is made in a resolution submitted yesterday to the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor.

The resolution, submitted by M. J. McGuire of San Francisco, has the approval of the Japanese Exclusion League of California, Los Angeles Anti-Asiatic Association and the Japanese Exclusion League of Washington, various patriotic, civic and fraternal bodies on the Pacific Coast.

Labor leaders declare that the resolution is the most drastic measure in the Japanese question ever considered by organized labor.

Provisions of Resolution.

It calls for: "Absolute exclusion for future of all Japanese immigration, not only male, but female, and not only laborers skilled and unskilled, but farmers and men of small trades and professions, as recommended by Theodore Roosevelt. Permission for temporary residence only for tourists, students, artists, commercial men, teachers and others."

"To prohibit to be enforced by United States officials under United States laws and regulations, as done with immigrants admitted, or excluded, from all other countries, and not as at present under an arrangement whereby control and regulation is surrendered by us to Japan."

Reference to States' Rights.

"Compliance on the part of all departments of the Federal Government with the Constitution, and abandonment of threat or attempt to take advantage of certain phrases of that document as to treaties, which it is claimed gives the treaty-making authority to the executive provisions of the Constitution and statutes in the following matters:

"A.—To nullify State rights and State laws for control of land and other matters plainly within the states' jurisdiction.

"B.—To grant American citizenship to races of yellow color, which are made ineligible for such citizenship.

"C.—To grant American citizenship to property rights legally acquired for Japanese legally entitled to residence in California and the privilege of engaging in any business desired, except such as may be now or hereafter denied by law, provided particularly they may not hereafter buy or lease agricultural lands."

Charles P. Comer Previously Had Had Police for $22,000 for Chain-Link His Machine.

But for $20,000 punitive damages and $2000 actual damages was filed in the Circuit Court yesterday afternoon by Charles P. Comer, an attorney, against Victor J. Miller, president of the Police Board, and Chief of Police O'Brien on account of the chaining of his automobile at Sixth and Chestnut streets by a policeman Wednesday after it had been parked in one spot longer than a city ordinance permits.

Comer protested to Chief O'Brien and threatened to sue, his machine was unchained. Policemen were kept watching it in relay for 18 hours, waiting for Comer to claim it. When he would have been arrested for violating the automobile law, he did not appear. They were waiting off at 11:30 a. m. yesterday.

When Comer complained to Chief O'Brien and the company which is his bond he told them he would sue. He said today that he did not know, until he read it in a newspaper at 8 o'clock last night, that the chain had been removed.

He went down after it this morning and it was not there. The police say they haven't got it and do not know where it is.

OBREGON'S ULTIMATUM. OBREGON of Mexico has issued a warning of the United States to be described as an ultimatum. Upon which Mexico will recognize Mr. Harding's election and his administration. To comply with terms and secure recognition must send the Mexican Government a promise to amend our Federal executive mandate, without calling for ratification by the Senate.

The changes outlined are to establish and protect Mexican mines and valuable mines on the line. While these changes, if satisfactory, it is an open in Big Business would be better at Harding should reply that the United States will not surrender sovereignty. That would give a pretext to invade the United States, and Big Business, notably on its heels, could fix up suit itself, and take whatever it pleased. This restatement of the new rate except for the trifling of a Harding and Obregon. United States have been transposed. This reference in the world! Mexican Constitution have no interest in the United States is bound to respect. All interest never desires anything the Grand Old Party, with which associated, should not come.

Senator France, on Way to Russia, Told by Representative of Love for America as Ideal of Dreams Krassin, Head of Trade Delegation in London, Declares Big Thing in Common Is Freedom From Designs on Neighbors.

SENATOR FRANCE is on his way to Russia to study economic and political conditions and to write concerning them. His articles will be printed in the Post-Dispatch from time to time.

By JOSEPH IRVING FRANCE, United States Senator From Maryland.

(Copyright, The Baltimore Sun.) LONDON, June 17.—Early the day after reaching London I sought out the Russian trade delegation in New Bond street, curious to see what manner of offices the Soviet might have in this of all streets, ablaze with the huge gem collections of London's jewel market.

I found a plain, comfortable building, ample for business needs and decidedly businesslike. On the fourth floor we were courteously received by an alert young Slav who informed us that M. Krassin, head of the delegation, had but just arrived from his recent conference in Moscow. By rare good fortune, then, I had been pulling in at one station while he was arriving at another; so there was no delay in establishing contact with this forceful, practical business man who just now is performing not alone industrial feats, but a statesman's task of enormous importance to Russia.

There was little formality about seeing him. I was given an appointment for the following morning, and promptly at the hour I was being led down a corridor between many offices to the neat, modernly equipped quarters of N. K. Kishko, secretary of the commission, a smooth-shaven, ruddy young Russian, self-confident and well informed. He sat at a busy desk, from time to time communicating with others in the building by an American-made inter-office device on the desk between him and his secretary. I was impressed with the thought that while in America many are trembling with an un-American fear of Russian propaganda and others are stating that Russia, richest of all lands in natural wealth, "has nothing with which to buy," England without fear or delusions is through these busy possibilities in Russia's huge domain.

Meeting With Krassin. Kishko turned his searching blue eyes toward me as I stated my wish to proceed to Russia and outlined the purpose of my mission. He listened intently and talked intelligently. At length he said, abruptly: "Mr. Krassin will see you," and we were ushered into the office of the Russian Trade Commissioner.

He greeted us in excellent English, although I had not spoken our language, and with marked cordiality.

He is a man about 50, with black hair, grayed at the temples, dark, intelligent eyes, and a closely-cut black beard; he has rather the appearance of the well-groomed French gentleman you might encounter at the opera in Paris. He speaks slowly and distinctly. His manner is fine; his courtesy grave and dignified.

I repeated to him the reasons which had induced me to undertake the mission to Russia and explained to him that I did not represent my Government in any official way, but was traveling in my individual capacity and that I wished to see conditions in Russia as they actually are, with a view to informing the people of my country of the state of Livingston said, and would go far toward cutting down the hazard of buying and selling at long range. Operating costs of dealers should be materially reduced, the speaker said, since "too large a slice of the consumer's dollar is going to pay preventable expense of bringing products from the farm to the home."

Tire Patch Inventor Sentenced. GUTHRIE, Ok., June 17.—Tony L. Moss, whose invention of a tire patch brought him sudden wealth and made him a well-known figure in Oklahoma, was sentenced to 14 months in the United States Penitentiary at Leavenworth here yesterday on a charge of attempting fraud in filing his 1918 income tax return. Sentence was passed by Judge John H. Cotterell in United States District Court.

FARM CO-OPERATIVE MARKETING 'PERMANENT INSTITUTION'

Chief of U. S. Bureau of Markets Says Economic Organization Opens More Direct Road to Consumer.

By the Associated Press. HOT SPRINGS, Va., June 17.—Farmers' co-operative marketing organizations are a "permanent" economic institution, George Livingston, chief of the U. S. Bureau of Markets, declared today in a dress before the convention of the Virginia Bankers' Association. Enabling the farmer to participate in profits of distribution and at the same time opening a more direct road to the consumer, such organizations are destined to have a far-reaching effect on both the farmer and the general public, Livingston asserted.

"But development in this direction must be on a charge of attempting fraud in filing his 1918 income tax return. Sentence was passed by Judge John H. Cotterell in United States District Court.

MEXICO DENIES REPORTS OF OIL FIELD DEPLETION

"Absurd and Unfounded," Say Officials, Who Estimate 1921 Output at 260,000,000 Barrels.

Figures Made Public Revealing Development and the Growing Yield Since 1901.

By the Associated Press. MEXICO CITY, June 17.—Reports of the depletion of Mexican oil fields are described as "absurd and unfounded" by the Treasury and Commerce and Industry Departments of the Mexican Government.

They have just made public figures showing that since 1901 production of oil in Mexico has constantly increased, and state that it is estimated the total output for the present year will be more than 260,000,000 barrels.

The total amount of crude petroleum which was on hand in Mexico at the end of 1920 is estimated at 8,828,039 barrels. The production for the first months of the present year is given as follows: January, 16,246,020; February, 15,063,864; March, 17,841,887; April, 18,614,790; May, approximately 19,000,000.

Exports covering the same period are given in round numbers, as follows: January, 17,000,000; February, March and April, 15,000,000 each, and May, 14,000,000; total exports for the five months, 77,098,000 barrels.

Reviewing the history of oil development since 1901, when only 10,345 barrels were produced, the official figures indicate the industry mapped out a steady growth. Production in 1910; to over 25,000,000 in 1913 and in excess of 55,000,000 in 1917.

In 1918 the total production was 63,828,000 barrels; in 1919 it was 67,072,000, and last year's output is estimated at more than 163,000,000. Rafael Alcega, chief of the petroleum department, commenting on the situation, says:

"Persons studying petroleum affairs must not confuse exportation with production, since the increase or decrease of exportation is dependent on the circumstances of the moment."

HOME AND HOUSING ASSOCIATION TURNS OFF MEN, CLOSES OFFICE

Organization Formed to Sell Houses at Cost Appoints Mercantile Trust Co. to Administer Affairs.

The Home and Housing Association, which last week through its president, Jackson Johnson, announced that it would cease building houses which it had been selling at cost because the demand seemed to have been "exaggerated," has closed its office, dismissed its employees and appointed the Mercantile Trust Co. to administer its affairs.

The association spent approximately $1,000,000 in building 127 houses, 26 of which remain unsold. The cost of the project was $2,000,000, but only half the amount was paid in. The employees of the association were a secretary-manager, superintendent and two salesmen. Nelson Cuniff resigned as manager to become Director of Public Welfare.

The students are from Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Columbia, Pennsylvania and Cornell universities. Mr. Loucheur accepted their services.

HARDING TO KEEP SILENCE IN HIS PLAN FOR LEAGUE

Letter of Hamilton Holt Will Go Unanswered Until Congressional Action of Peace Has Been Taken.

PLANS SUBMITTED TO THE PRESIDENT

Experts Have Made Outlines, Based on World Court, but the Executive Has Not Adopted Any of Them.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, June 17.—Hamilton Holt's letter calling on President Harding to disclose his plans for an association of nations to replace the league has failed to draw any reply from the administration, and indications are that none will be made, at least for the present.

Holt headed the pro-league Republicans during the campaign. It was said at the White House today that his open letter made public in New York yesterday, had not yet been received, further than that officials refused to comment.

The impression was permitted to go out, however, that if President Harding replies to the letter he will not enter into any detailed discussion and that so far as the administration is concerned the association plan must remain for the present in an indefinite status, as the administration prefers first a definite settlement of peace and a restoration of stable conditions in Europe.

Some persons in the confidence of the administration said today that progress of a preliminary character on the plans for the proposed association of nations and that at least one draft of a plan had been made by an eminent authority on international law at the request of President Harding. The President, they said, is giving approval to any thing final, and the indications are against any international negotiations on the subject in the immediate future.

One draft of an association plan, prepared at the President's request, is understood to be constructed about the principle of a world court and an international conference for the discussion of questions likely to lead to war. This was regarded as the principle advocated by Mr. Harding during his campaign. There are no outward indications that he has changed his position.

Both White House and State Department officials continue to decline to reveal what specific steps the President has in mind to carry out such a policy. Although the President's first address to Congress was interpreted by some as favoring ratification of the Versailles treaty with broad reservations, there is as yet no indication that he is preparing to resubmit the treaty to the Senate.

On the contrary, the indications are that Mr. Harding is developing his international policy step by step and does not care for the present to commit himself beyond the administration's endorsement of peace by Congress.

Text of Holt's Letter.

The full text of Hamilton Holt's letter is as follows: "It is now six years that the League of Nations issue has been before the country. It is now two years that you as Senator, presidential candidate, President-elect and President, have had the League of Nations issue officially before you. As a Senator you voted to have the United States enter the existing league provided the Lodge amendments were made part of the act of ratification.

"As presidential candidate you left the country and even your own followers in doubt as to your attitude. Thirty-one pre-eminent Republicans—among them your Secretary of State, Mr. Hughes, and your Secretary of War, Mr. Hoover—assured their fellow countrymen that you would go into the existing league. Senators Borah and Johnson and the other 'irreconcilables' assured the country that you would not.

"As President-elect you did not see fit to disclose your attitude on the league beyond what you had said during the campaign. Both the 'third one' and the 'irreconcilables' claimed you for their own.

"As President, however, you have unequivocally repudiated the existing League of Nations, whose aims are completely contrary to the best interests of our country and whose population numbers three-quarters of the human race. You even permitted without rebuke your Ambassador at the Court of St. James to say that

PORTER PEACE RESOLUTION WILL COST U. S. MILLIONS, SAYS MINORITY REPORT

Democratic Members of House Committee Declare It Assumes for Congress Right of President to Make Treaties.

From the Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—The Porter peace resolution, which the House has adopted as a substitute for the Knox resolution, is vigorously attacked in a minority report by five Democratic members of the House Foreign Affairs Committee—Flood of Virginia, Lathrop of Maryland, Stedman of North Carolina, Sabath of Illinois and Connolly of Texas. These members assert that Congress has no constitutional right to make a contract with another Government, and that the resolution will not only accomplish no useful purpose but will cost the United States and its citizens millions of dollars.

Their views in full are as follows: "We are opposed to Senate joint resolution 16 as amended by the House Foreign Affairs Committee."

"1. Because we do not believe under the Constitution we can by an act of Congress enter into contracts with another Government. We do not believe that Congress has such power, and think it an invasion of the treaty-making power, which is a constitutional prerogative of the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, two-thirds of the Senators concurring."

"2. Because we do not believe that the resolution will accomplish anything. It will place this country at great disadvantage in negotiating treaties with the enemy countries, and will sacrifice the interests of thousands of our citizens and cost this country and its nationals millions of dollars."

"It Will Not Restore Peace." "Its proponents claim that it will restore peace and end our trade with Germany. It will do neither. It will not restore peace, for we are already at peaceful relations with the peoples of those countries."

"It will not restore a status of peace, which does not exist now, and which should not exist until the disputed questions between this country and the countries with which we were at war growing out of the war are settled by negotiations or imposed agreements."

"It will not advance our trade with Germany, for that is going forward as rapidly as German financial conditions and credits will permit. This year—that is, during the year ending June 30, 1921—our export trade with Germany will be larger than it ever was with that country, being about $400,000,000, as against $352,000,000 in 1912, the highest mark in our trade with that country."

"3. Because it is positively injurious to the interests of America and her nationals."

"If we restore the status of peace before our difficulties with Germany are settled, we surrender the advantage of the position which we hold as a belligerent, and which all of the allied Powers had when they negotiated their terms of peace with Germany."

"Things Left Unsaid." "We endanger and leave unsettled—"

"(a) The right to use the property in the hands of the Alien Property Custodian to satisfy claims of America and her nationals for damage done to them during the war."

"(b) The title to the ships taken during the war."

"(c) Our support system in a most unsatisfactory condition."

"(d) We open up to the representatives of commercial houses in Germany our whole country, with no such right on the part of our commercial houses to send representatives to Germany."

"(e) The reparation for the maintenance of our troops on the Rhine."

FOOT AND MOUTH DISEASE IMMUNITY SERUM REPORTED

Announcement of Discovery Made to Agricultural Commission of French Senate.

By the Associated Press. PARIS, June 17.—Discovery of a serum rendering cattle immune to foot and mouth disease has been made by Professors Chaille and Carre of the Alfortville Agricultural Research Laboratory, according to an announcement made yesterday to the Agricultural Commission of the Senate by Senator Beaumont.

The discovery is the result of years of experimenting with blood elements and microbes in order to make possible the fixation of the bacillus of foot and mouth disease, which is so infinitely small that it could not be retained in the most minute filters. Fixation now has been accomplished and the serum has been made in small quantities through a phagocytic process.

FOREIGNERS OUT OF WORK ASK FOR DEPORTATION HOME

Many in Pennsylvania Are Good English Workmen Who Came Here Mills Were in Operation.

By the Associated Press. PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 17.—Scores of foreigners, recently arrived in this country, are applying to the United States immigration authorities here for deportation to their home countries. They say they have been unable to find employment, and unless they are sent home, they will become charges upon the counties in Western Pennsylvania, where they reside.

W. W. Sliray, immigration inspector in charge of the Pittsburgh district, said today that many of these men were from Great Britain, good workmen, who came here when the mills were in full operation, and no difficulty in obtaining employment. Since the depression set in they have been out of work.

Using Supreme Council. Already Mr. Harding is using the Supreme Council to get at the attitude of the Powers on the disarmament question, and just as soon as the Versailles treaty can be re-drafted so as to eliminate certain clauses which the U. S. P. opposes, the move for an association of nations will be begun.

One thing has developed clearly in the last few days—it is that the Harding administration does not intend to rush precipitately to any treaty-making or anything else, but will take one step at a time.

The passage of the Knox-Porter resolution declaring the state of war at an end is the first stage of the journey. Next comes the revision or modification of the Versailles treaty so that the American Senate can ratify it and thus peace with Germany be made and diplomatic relations established.

After that comes the making of an association of nations. It is a matter of months—and perhaps a year—before the question of what kind of a league shall be formed will come up.

WORLD'S COURT OPPOSED IF PART OF THE LEAGUE

Harding Administration Won't Accept Root Plan Unless Completely Separated From League Machinery.

NO REPRESENTATIVE TO THE COUNCIL

Mandate Question Not to Serve as Bridge to Action With League; Forecast of Foreign Policy.

By DAVID LAWRENCE. A Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch. (Copyright, 1921.)

WASHINGTON, June 16.—The President has no intention of sending a representative even unofficially to discuss with the Council of the League of Nations the matter of mandates.

The invitation sent by the council of the league to Secretary Coby to send a representative to discuss mandates was purposely left unanswered. The Harding administration might be free to do as it pleased with the request.

Paris dispatches in the last few days have sought informally to remind the American Government that the invitation is still unanswered. In the same informal way the word goes out that the Harding administration does not anticipate the necessity of sending any representative, official or unofficial, to the next meeting of the council.

Concerning Mandates. So far as mandates are concerned, the Government has a means of communication with all the Powers through the Supreme Council, which is attended by Ambassador Harvey as the personal representative of the President.

Although the American Ambassador has made one or two errors of speech which he himself attributes to inexperience as a diplomat, and, although Secretary Hughes and President Harding have both felt it necessary to define America's purposes in entering the war as unselfish instead of selfish, the fact is that Mr. Harvey is in good favor and is charged with the responsibility of negotiating all the delicate questions which America may want discussed with the great Powers.

Ambassador Harvey made the statement that the United States would not have anything to do with the league or any of its committees, directly or indirectly. This was doubted at the time, but it turns out that he had an accurate idea of Harding's administration policy. Even the Root plan for an international court of justice, which is the offspring of a committee of the League of Nations, is not to be accepted unless it is completely separated from the machinery of the league.

The determination to steer clear of the League of Nations and deal only with the Supreme Council is growing stronger in administration quarters, especially because the President is becoming convinced that there is no real task which cannot be as directly handled in the Supreme Council as in the present organization of the League of Nations, namely, the council.

After the next few meetings of the Supreme Council it would not be surprising to find President Harding openly commending the idea of an effective medium for international intercourse and urging its use as a nucleus for a greater association of nations which shall differ from the present League of Nations in that it shall have nothing to do with the enforcement of the treaty of Versailles or any other treaty.

Using Supreme Council. Already Mr. Harding is using the Supreme Council to get at the attitude of the Powers on the disarmament question, and just as soon as the Versailles treaty can be re-drafted so as to eliminate certain clauses which the U. S. P. opposes, the move for an association of nations will be begun.

PLAN IN CHINA TO GROW AMERICAN COTTON

Purpose to Improve Quality Raised in Hupeh Province; Figures on Industry in China.

HANKOW, Hupeh Province, China, June 17.—With the purpose of improving the quality of cotton grown in Hupeh Province, the Industrial Bureau of the province is making renewed efforts to bring about the planting of American cotton seed to supply the Chinese cotton need. An educational campaign has been started among growers in cotton districts and this is devoted to explaining methods of planting American cotton.

Nearly a million and a half spindles using over 200,000 tons of cotton yearly are in operation in China, according to a table of statistics that has been compiled by the Chinese Cotton Mill Owners' Association. A portion of the report follows:

Number of cotton spinning spindles active and idle, 1,422,822.
Number of active mule spindles, none.
Number of active ring spindles, 1,391,304.

Number of spindles in course of erection, 115,000.

The quantity of cotton used for the half year ending Jan. 31, 1921, in bales of 500 pounds, is given as follows:

Chinese cotton, 249,577 bales.
American cotton, 8218 bales.
East Indian, 51,311 bales.

No Coal Rate Reduction Likely.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 17.—Reduction in freight rates on coal by voluntary agreement between the coal industry and the railroads is not to be expected this summer. Secretary Hoover said yesterday. The two parties, he said, have been unable to come to any agreement in the matter.

Oeuvre Camera Men; Quality, for Jack

In Irrepressible Desire to Ins Over Fifteen Men in Manager Relates.

ten.

Jack Dempsey put in yesterday meaning the first section of the camp scenes. Like all movie-men but Dempsey, Jack doesn't stare. That's what makes him don't last long enough. Same as like being attacked by a gang or a goal in sections.

right, because he puts so much in the picture. Jack has a black himself and a busted ear and he was down. But the rest of gang was laid off for repairs.
Isn't like this at Atlantic City, course; but training for a ring it is play beside this picture stuff.
Jack had to wear white flannel and look pretty, telling the cook to fix his training dinner.

Dempsey Has No Bad Habits.
The camp is all worked up over stories that a boxer on Demp-staff got into a cafe row. Funny Dempsey is the cleanest living weight champion we ever saw; but when anything happens everybody blames it on him. The who tried to tip over a bunch waiters never got nearer to Demp-camp than the outside gate and Dempsey wouldn't have known him in the street sweeper if he'd seen him. Teddy Hayes was telling me that. He almost wept.

Jack is the quietest fellow I ever saw," says Hayes. "Here he is in every night at 9 or 9:30, in his training quarters a mile out of town and they start stories he's rolling the board walk. He's at 6 every morning and greets the at 6 out of bed, always full pup and fun. This morning he came up by hitting me with a time he could land and was because he wanted company a short hike before the crowd came out. He always goes away in town so that he won't meet people. And say, strict! Why yesterday I was riding downtown with him the big car, Jack driving and the ring beside him, when he was dressed up at a corner by traffic. A pile of pretty girls stood beside the car and looked up and I nodded and waved my hand to polite.

"What's that?" asks Jack, quick.
"They seemed to know us," says I.
"Just waved back."
"Nothing like that," says Jack.
"It's out."

Not that they expected either little fellow to hit Jack a blow hard enough to reopen the wound; but we were danger of the fellows coming together. Dempsey was had low and ducking up and down a cork on the high seas. He seems to box with the little fellows make them miss, but there was present every second, for the were boxing as fast as his legs could go.

In order to safeguard the eye, it was thought best to let Larry Wilson, battling Gahes and big Jack Bauer keep their bayonets to themselves. Not that Jack is through with them, by any means. Far from it. The dollar innocents who pay to see Jack work are waiting for the time when the champion is really made loose at work.
For a long time before Dempsey was ready to work he sat in a big chair in his cottage and kept bathing his face and eyebrows with oil of olive. He was thinking of the spring to come and doing his part prevent the cuts.

They Do Say That Every Time a Grass-Cutter Gets Away From Lamb He Looks Sheepish

Carpentier Puts On Fine Display Of Ring Science

French Champion Baffles Sparing Partners in Workout

SHOWS A DEMPSEY ASSET

His Two-Time Left Punch Is Delivered With Dazzling Speed to Body and Head.

NEW YORK, June 17.—It was up-stip! Swish! Bam! down at Georges Carpentier's training quarters yesterday on the part of the French champion.

It was "Go after him, Georges!" Let him hit it. Step around!" It was little Dempsey, his manager.

It was "Attabo!" "Isn't he good?" "He'll sure give Dempsey a battle!" from about 200 spectators who watched him box and work out in the wading pool that beat down upon the ring in the pasture.

To a certain extent—not altogether, mind you, but just to a degree—the leech which is Maitre Francois has been holding upon his blond pet was extended. It wasn't taken off, but the "French" was permitted to show a later pace, to put a little more stuff into his punches than he had done in any of his previous public shows, perhaps because the movie men were filming his every move during the day.

Georges first took on little Marcel Denys, the lightweight, and showed how fast and agile he is by fucking Marcel's swift swings, jerk-ing his head away from the small chop's jab and hooks, and actually outstepping him about the 15-foot ring.

Denys was in there under orders to let go everything he had at the champion, and he did, but the only time he could land was when Georges would drop one hand and hold his jaw out for a solid smack from Marcel.

Carpentier Fools Journe.
After only about 30 seconds' rest —and the round had been 4 minutes—Carpentier took on big Paul Journe, who likewise was encouraged by Desamps, perched on a ring-corner, like a sparrow, to step fast and slug. Journe is training himself for a battle with Charley Weinert at Elstia Field on Monday.
Georges absolutely dazed Journe with his fists and whipped in rights and lefts to the body and jaw at will.

There's been a lot of comment about Georges not having displayed the "one-two" punch he learned in Paris from Willie Lewis. But he tried it out three or four times. He 200-pound sparring partner and on every occasion, if he had put real strength behind his rights, might have flattened the big fellow. But he pulled his punches and then simply allowed Journe to shoot over a couple of rights to the jaw, which didn't even jar him as he recoiled from side to side with them.

"Ducky Joe Jeannette, with his youth far behind him, the big fellow, still there, came on next, after another 40 seconds' rest. Clever as Joe Carpentier made him miss repeatedly and rushed the big fellow up against the ropes three or four times.

Much has been said about a Dempsy asset called a "double left hook" —one first to the stomach, and then another ripped up to the jaw. The crowd at Manhasset will agree that this is not solely a possession of Champion Jack. The French champion also has it—and he works it so fast it seems to be only one blow.

souri Golf Association championship pected that this city will have the largest delegation that has ever competed in an out-of-town event.

The list includes the following: Richard Bockenkamp, James S. Man-dell, D. P. Richards, E. S. Clarke and W. H. Whitton, of Midland Valley;

Nall, of Alton.

The women's championship will be stant for the title held by Miss Carolyn Lee of Kansas City.

nual Midland Valley Country Club

Leonard Does Golf Match.

PHILADELPHIA, June 17.—Benny Leonard, lightweight champion of the world, was defeated here yesterday, but not in the boxing ring.
Leonard spent the day here and was introduced by David Phillips, a local lawyer, to an 18-hole golf match.
Leonard won, 91 to 91.

GOSH!
YOU'LL find this happens to some men.

And this is not a joke; They're sure to get to pieces when They find that they are broke.

BUT when they get it in the neck They often find it pays To save the pieces from the wreck And try to mend their ways.

SLIM PICKING.
"Monarchy Will Come Back in Hungary, Apopst Says." Head line. It might not be far from the truth to say that if monarchy comes back at all she'll come back hungry.

It's been pretty tough sledding for Monarchy ever since Kaiser Bill lost his seat in the sun.

BULL IS RIGHT.
The man on the sand box says that he never believed in signs until he saw one on the fence surrounding the training quarters of a box fighter which read, "Beware of the Bull."

that she is to be married, saying that for the present she will continue in the singles and let the Wimbledon Draw Hits Americans

Mrs. Mallory and Miss Ryan Placed in the "Hard Bracket" in British Event.

By Herbert L. Bourke.

LONDON, June 17.—The draw for the championship tournament of all England at Wimbledon made last night is badly balanced. Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory is in the lower half of the women's singles, her section including all the best players except Mrs. Satterthwaite, who should go through to the top half.

Mrs. Mallory, who gets a bye in the first round, will meet Miss Johnson in the second, and if she survives, probably will oppose Mrs.
Colton, a capable left-handed player, who is likely to be hard to beat. Miss Ryan of California is in the same section.

Everyone is sorry that Tilden will not be able to play in the men's doubles. Because of his withdrawal Arnold Jones will pair with his father, J. N. Jones. F. T. Hunter is well known in this with the veteran, A. W. Gore.

Tilden will play in the mixed doubles, paired with Mrs. Mallory. They, with Arnold Jones and Miss Bigour-ney, are in the lower half, while in the top half are Mlle. Lenglen and Andre Gobert, as well as Miss Ryan and Randall.

Johnson's first public appearance in the ring, following his release next July 7 from Leavenworth prison, will be in Leavenworth July 9, when he is scheduled to box at an athletic show here. Johnson has been training here and appearing frequently in bouts with boxers from outside the penitentiary walls.

REFeree FOR TITLE GO NOT NAMED AT MEETING

JERSEY CITY, N. J., June 17.—At
the meeting here yesterday to select a referee for the Carpentier-Dempsey fight July 2, no definite action was taken. It is understood that Carpentier and his manager have stated that any person will be satisfactory to them. Kearns is reported to have insisted on a vote in the matter pointing out the great stake that Dempsey is risking. The New Jersey Boxing Commission is said to be insistent that it be allowed to exercise its right in naming the official.

SCULLIN SOCCER MEN ARE AWARDED MEDALS

At a banquet tendered them last night by Harry Scullin, members of the Scullin's champions of the St.
Louis Soccer League and finalists in the national title series, were awarded their medals from the U. S. F. A.
Thirteen players were given medals.
They are: A. J. Brady, W. Brady, J.
E. Nolan, J. Hennessy, L. Zarschel, C.
Bechtold, T. O'Hanlon, E. Burke, J.
McCarthy, E. Schwarz, T. O'Toole, G.
Bentley and D. Murphy.

Short talks were made by Harry Scullin, G. L. Davis, V. C. Turner, T.
W. Murphy, Charles Bartley, Phil Riley, Willie Foley and Tate Brady. Edward Judge acted as toastmaster.

BRITISH OPEN GOLF
EVENT OPENS MONDAY

By the Associated Press.
ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, June 17.— The largest assemblage of international golfers ever seen here is hard at work in the final week-end practice for the qualifying rounds of the British open championship, which begins Monday over the links of the famous Royal and Ancient Golf Club.
The draw for the tournament shows 150 men entered, including the cream of the amateurs and professionals of the United States, the British Isles, Australia, France and Spain.

The Americans who will make a final attempt to capture the British 1921 open title include Walter Hagen, James Barnes, Jack Hutchinson, Charlie ("Chick") Evans, "Bobby" Jones and Paul Hunter.

Suit Over Dillon Bout in 1914 Is Settled as Draw

Mailed to Light-Heavyweight.

Jack Dillon, former light heavyweight pugilistic star, once known as "Jack the Giant Killer," received a check last week for his bout with Knockout Brown at the St. Louis Coliseum on Oct. 14, 1914. The amount of the check was not disclosed by his lawyers.

Dillon received his money for the famous fiasco, because the celebrated case of Coliseum Athletic Club vs.
Dillon came to a close after mean-
for six and one-half years. The con-
legal bout a draw and split $50-50 between the parties—that is split what was left.

It is fitting that St. Louis should set the Shriners' $100,000 hospital. The old town is famous for her hospitality.

See where a couple of Western railroads have issued orders that until further notice hoboes are to be allowed to ride free and unmoles-
war tax?

St. Clairsville, Ohio, has a hen that hops into a particular rock-ing chair every day and lays an egg on a cushion. She must be descended from a stool pigeon.

TODAY'S THE DAY.
The doors of all the public schools
Will close today at noon;
But all the public swimming pools Will be reopened soon.

the meeting here yesterday to select

Dempsey is risking. The New Jersey Boxing Commission is said to be insistent that it be allowed to exercise its right in naming the official.

Mailed to Light-Heavyweight.

weight pugilistic star, once known as
"Jack the Giant Killer," received a
Knockout Brown at the St. Louis
Coliseum on Oct. 14, 1914. The amount of the check was not disclosed by his lawyers.

famous fiasco, because the celebrated
case of Coliseum Athletic Club vs.
Dillon came to a close after mean-
was left.

It is fitting that St. Louis should set the Shriners' $100,000 hospital. The old town is famous for her hospitality.

allowed to ride free and unmoles-
war tax?

MANHASSET, L. I., June 17.—I found yesterday that I am down within one pound of 172, which I will carry into the ring against Dempsey. My public workout yesterday afternoon was tempered with that fact in mind. I kept something in reserve, for over-training is the only danger I fear, but I felt so good at the end of four rounds that I couldn't help calling for an extra go with Joe Jeannette.

I anticipate no trouble in keep-fight.

A day of easy boxing, alternated with a day of rest, will be my pro-

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY
By James J. Montague.

A NEW HORROR.
Time was, when a Senator's flow of debate Could last but three hours or four,
For visions of food would arise and intrude On his speech, if he talked any more.
And wearied out colleagues would smile with content As he started to sway on his feet.
And whisper: "He's done! It is pretty near one, And he's got to get something to eat!"

No matter how wordy a statesman might be How eager to talk right along,
You could always bet that the limit was set,
For the claims of his stomach were strong.
And though there never was a shortage of breath Or a lack of his verbal supply, The time always came when he bowed to the claim Of coffee and crullers and pie.

But now in the corridor, right by the door,
With an African waiter at hand,
To juggle the lunch for the statesmen to munch, Is an up-to-date victualing stand.
And right in the midst of a high-tariff speech A Senator signals for chow, And his casual need in the matter of feed Is served with a flourish and bow.

No more do we say, when a Solon begins To stir up the ambient air,
"He's soon going to feel that he's shy of a meal So there really's no cause for despair." He'll talk between bites, and he'll talk right along,
And we feel that there's reason to fear, That some of those birds with unlimited words Will talk, when they start, for a year.
